

ANYONE FOR LUNCH? Sure, David Koffman, of Los Angeles, doesn't mind a bite, served by Chef Ted Boak, while he's comfortably floating around the Western Hills Hotel pool. In fact, Koffman, a desert visitor every weekend, takes all three meals aboard his rubber raft. According to Manager Frank Bogert, Koffman coasts around the pool from 8 a.m. until dark, listening to his portable radio, smoking cigars and dining at breakfast, lunch and dinner. Why? "Best way to relax I've ever found," said the suntanned businessman.

Bill Cunney Has Two Close Calls On Air Trip East

After two near misses on one round-trip airline flight, Villager Bill Cunney today decided that there is no place like good old terra firma.

Cunney, operator of Cathedral City's Farmhouse restaurant, was a passenger on an American Airlines plane that narrowly missed an aerial collision over Texas late Wednesday.

Eighty passengers, including Cunney, were tossed about the cabin when the plane dropped sharply to avoid another craft. Two persons went to an El Paso hospital.

"I was sound asleep when it happened," Cunney related. "First thing I knew about it was when I landed in a seat three rows ahead."

Cunney, who was returning from his father's funeral at Arlington, Va., said his nerves were also jangled on the trip east Monday.

The eastbound plane made a forced landing at Tulsa, Okla., when an engine started throwing oil and had to be cut off by the pilot.

THE WEATHER

Desert area forecast: Clear today through Saturday but scattered afternoon cloudiness in south portion. Slightly warmer afternoons. Highs today 96-104 upper valleys, 104-110 lower valleys. Yesterday's high was 106; low, 71.

Long-Haired Officers Decide on Sidewalls

FUCHU, Japan — Neatly trimmed Airman 3/C Donald Wheeler, Cortez, Colo., told four long-haired officers of an Air Force court martial today he refused to get a white sidewall haircut because it was "ridiculous on any human."

And the stubborn, 20-year-old airman made it clear he was against the white sidewall no matter what happened to him.

WHEELER WENT before a special court martial today to answer charges he disobeyed orders to get a "white sidewall" haircut, shaved sides with a fringe on the top, when he was a member of the honor guard at the United Nations Far East Command headquarters in Tokyo.

The white sidewall haircut is ridiculous on any human," he said.

The court martial was made up of a lieutenant colonel, two majors and a captain. The colonel and two majors would never make an honor guard if short hair was a prerequisite. The captain had a crew cut, but it badly needed trimming.

EVEN WHEELER'S civilian defense attorney and his court-ap-

Egyptian Government Kills Plot to Overthrow Nasser

CAIRO — The government disclosed the details today of a plot by nine former army officers and five civilians to assassinate President Gamal Abdel Nasser and his Cabinet and seize control of Egypt.

All have been arrested and three have confessed, it said. An official announcement said the conspirators planned to machinegun Nasser and his ministers during a Cabinet meeting.

IT SAID THE 14 men belonged to a secret organization, known as the "Truth Partisans," which was formed more than a year ago. The leader of the group was identified as Ahmed Atef Nasser, a retired brigadier, and according to the announcement a close friend of the President.

The announcement, issued by the government information department, said the group had set

Colored Slides Of Tramways To Be Shown

Colored slides on aerial tramways in the Swiss and French Alps will be viewed by Chamber of Commerce directors at their regular meeting July 25.

The tramways, comparable to the aerial lift proposed for Mt. San Jacinto, were filmed by Robson Chambers, of Frey and Chambers architects, during his recent tour of Southern Europe.

Chambers also plans to report on the economical construction and profitable operation of these European tramways.

pointed military attorney could have used a trim. The nearest men in the room were Wheeler and his former commanding officer, 1st Lt. William Shortt of Seattle, Wash., whose haircut matched his name.

It was Shortt who ordered Wheeler to get the short trim.

The haircut ordered calls for clippers all around, right up to the top which is cut short. The particular cut bares so much white scalp that it won the name "white sidewall" cut, a name unpleasant to Shortt who wears his hair that way.

TODAY'S HEARING was the third for Wheeler and possibly the last. Air Force officials at the 5th Air Force headquarters here stressed that Wheeler was on trial for disobeying an order and not because his haircut did not conform.

Shortt took the stand first today and testified he had ordered Wheeler at least six times to get a close haircut.

Was it true, asked civilian defense attorney Murray Sprung that Wheeler refused to get the haircut because "I do not want to look like a shaved jackass?"

a deadline for its plot for the end of April. But authorities were tipped off and the arrests made.

RUMORS OF AN alleged anti-government conspiracy have circulated for months. However, it was not until Thursday that Egyptian officials would even admit that an investigation into an alleged plot was under way.

The five civilians were identified as members of the dissolved WAFD party. The most prominent were Mohamed Saleh El Din and Abdel Fattah Hassan, both of whom served as ministers in the former Wardist governments.

The announcement said the plotters planned to appoint El Din as premier and Hassan as minister of interior after the coup d'etat. It said both agreed to the conspiracy and accepted the offered portfolios.

Gunmen Rob Tijuana Hotel, Crash Border

TIJUANA — Two gunmen held up Rancho la Gloria Hotel today and then fled into the United States by crashing their car through the border gates.

Danny Herrera, owner of the hotel 10 miles south of here, said the bandits fired several shots at a bartender as they left. He estimated $200 was taken.

Mexican police picked up the fleeing car and followed it to the border. U.S. Customs Service agents were forced to leap to safety when the vehicle crashed the gates and nearly overturned.

MOTHER GRIM, SON GURGLES THROUGH SACK

AMARILLO, Tex. — A grim-faced woman sat on a city bus Thursday and watched her 4-year-old son with apprehension. The lad was bouncing around with a sack pulled firmly over his head.

A woman nearby asked if he usually played with his head in a bag.

"I put it there," the woman said tersely. "You want to know why?"

"The first thing he did today was lock himself in the bathroom. I had to call a carpenter and have the door removed."

"Then he went out in the back yard and broke some bottles. He spread the glass around and made his little sister walk over it barefoot."

"I took her to the doctor in a taxi and he sewed up her feet. I left the boy with a neighbor and when I got back he was gone."

"When we found him, he ran into the house and stuffed his head into his sister's potty. I couldn't get it off."

"That's the reason for the sack over his head," the disgruntled woman said. "We're on the way to the doctor to get the pot off."

A cheerful gurgling drifted from under the rumpled bag.

Five Men Brave Jet Rocket Blast

Device Launched Today 30,000 Feet Over Desert

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. — A nuclear-armed rocket was fired from a jet fighter plane today in a dazzling display of things to come in the harnessing of atomic energy to the nation's defenses.

As the device was launched somewhere between 20,000 and 30,000 feet above the Atomic Energy Commission's desert test site, five Air Force officers stood lonely and unprotected on the ground directly below the blast to prove that civilian populations could safely survive the ordeal of an overhead explosion.

IN THE SKY ABOVE, three F89 Scorpion jets flew in V-formation and the leading plane launched the rocket. Crew members of the jets were doused with radiation because of their proximity to the blast and had to scurry to the ground for decontamination.

The device was fired at 7 a.m. p.m. and was seen very brightly by reporters on News Nob a dozen miles away. The fireball was visible for between 15 and 20 seconds, and then the cloud formed into a doughnut or smoke ring shape with a tinge of pink coloring and a weird spray trailing earthward.

MORE THAN A minute later the shock wave was felt. The cloud retained its doughnut form as it climbed and the ballerina-skirt spray began to disintegrate. Minutes later the cloud appeared as a puff of salmon-tinged cotton as it drifted out of sight.

Today's test was the first firing of a nuclear device by a fighter plane, and its impact was rated by the AEC only as less than 20,000 tons of TNT.

At ground zero acting as guinea pigs were Col. Sidney Bruce, Durango, Colo., Lt. Col. Frank Ball, Washington; Maj. John Hughes, McKeesport, Pa.; Maj. Norman Bodinger, Ridgefield, N. J., and Maj. Donald Luttrell, Dallas, Tex. They were airlifted by helicopter back to AEC headquarters to make their reports on how they withstood the blast.

Newsman Wait, Nothing Happens

LONDON — Reports that Princess Margaret's engagement to a handsome Irish peer would be announced today sent dozens of newsmen flocking to Buckingham Palace. But their all night vigil outside the cold grey walls was in vain.

Nothing happened. The rumors still persisted, however, that Margaret's interest in 24-year-old Lord Patrick Bessford was something out of the ordinary.

Singer, Husband Tell Of Incident in Cuba

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. — Singer Frances Langford and her husband, wealthy Ralph E. Evinrude, said today they narrowly escaped an "international incident" when their yacht was boarded by two armed Cuban navy officers off the northeast coast of Cuba.

The Evinrudes sailed into port here July 15 after completing a 6,500-mile trip from Stuart, Fla., on their 118-foot yacht, Chanticleer.

"WE WERE GREETED by six aircraft flying overhead, a frigate—all manned and armed to the teeth—as our yacht was en route to Guantanamo Bay," Evinrude said. "We were ordered to halt and a two-man boarding party armed with pistols boarded and searched the yacht."

Evinrude, head of a firm which makes outboard motors, said one of the officers identified himself as Lt. Martinez of the Cuban navy. Evinrude said Martinez and

12 Killed As French Train Jumps Track

More Than 82 Injured From Steam Burns

BOLLENE, France — An express train carrying Riviera vacationers back to Paris left the tracks at 70 miles an hour here today, killing at least 12 persons and injuring more than 82 others.

The locomotive and 10 cars left the tracks. An overturned sleeper was rammed through the engine's tender by the force of the crash.

Five persons, including the chief conductor and the fireman, died in or near the wreck and seven others died later of burns at nearby hospitals.

Most of the injured suffered from burns received when the train's steam pipes burst in the crash.

Cause of the accident was unknown, but rail officials said it was believed the express was shunted down a side track either by a switchman's mistake or a failure of a switch itself.

March Air Force Bomber Crashes Into Mountain

WENDOVER, Nev. — An Air Force B47 medium bomber crashed into a Pequot Mountain peak on the Eastern Nevada desert Thursday night killing its four crewmen.

Air Force search planes, sent out after the bomber failed to radio its position, found the charred wreckage and bodies this morning. The site was about 35 miles west of here.

The plane had left March Air Force Base, Calif., at 8:15 p.m. Thursday on a routine night navigation mission. Officials said its destination was "classified."

Names of the victims were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

Observers at the crash site today said the plane apparently bounced after striking the mountain side and broke into three pieces. One section still was burning when search crews arrived.

The crash was about 8,500 feet elevation, roughly 2,000 feet from the peak.

San Diego Hears Naval Gunfire

SAN DIEGO — Heavy naval gunfire off the coast Thursday night awakened hundreds of San Diego residents and resulted in numerous calls to police, the U.S. Weather Bureau and newspapers.

A Navy spokesman said four destroyers were conducting firing about 35 miles offshore. He said the noise apparently came from five-inch guns.

another officer "apologized" after they searched the yacht and returned to their frigate, formerly owned by the United States and renamed Siboney.

"MY WIFE and I were scared," the manufacturer said. "We did not know what was wrong and were relieved to see the two officers leave."

Evinrude said he didn't ask the Cubans made it a practice of stopping yachts but that his craft might have been mistaken at a distance for a destroyer. He said the Chanticleer has long sleek lines, is painted navy blue and has two large jugs on the fantail which at a distance resemble depth bombs.

The Evinrudes proceeded without incident to Guantanamo Bay after the four-hour delay. They said from there they went to Santiago where they were "urged to please go as this is no place for visitors."

Sheppard Granted Lie Detector Test by Governor

DeLAND, Fla. — The celebrated 1934 Sheppard murder case was reopened today on the basis of a "confession" by a Florida convict that he slugged a Cleveland, Ohio, woman the night Marilyn Sheppard was slain.

Ohio Gov. C. William O'Neill announced in Columbia that Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, now serving a life term in prison for his wife's murder, will undergo a lie detector test.

SHEPPARD WOULD not consent to a lie test in early stages of the murder case but later asked for one. He was denied the test at that time.

O'Neill told his news conference that he is "considering" evidence presented to him concerning the story told in DeLand by Joseph Wedler, a blond, bushy-haired prisoner who said he wanted to "get a murder off my mind."

Until today, Wedler's story had been accepted as just another yarn, 25th in the number of "confessions" that have come out of the Sheppard case.

THE OHIO GOVERNOR said he is granting Sheppard's request for a lie detector test concerning the murder of his wife. Sheppard has maintained his innocence throughout, claiming Marilyn was killed by a bushy-haired intruder.

O'Neill said he authorized the test on Dr. Sam at the request of the prisoner and his attorney, Lt. Gov. Paul M. Herbert.

Private investigators, meanwhile, were working here trying to determine whether Wedler is telling the truth or made up the story in an effort to win publicity or freedom.

Until today, Cleveland authorities took a very skeptical attitude toward Wedler.

OHIO ATTORNEY General William Saxbe also announced that his office is studying legal questions involved in the new break. Whether Dr. Sam could get a new trial on the basis of the developments was the question pondered by legal authorities. An assistant Ohio attorney general thought that "quite possible."

Cleveland police called off their announced plans to send a list of questions to Florida authorities to put to Wedler.

Crumbling Reservoir Dam Is 'Holding Its Own' Today

CAPULIN, Colo. — The crumbling Terrace Reservoir Dam was "holding its own" today against more than six billion gallons of water threatening 1,000 Southern Colorado residents in the valley below.

Engineers said pressure behind the earthen dam was dropping "steadily but slowly" and danger of a break "lessened by the hour."

The 198-foot high dam has threatened to send a wall of water down Alamosa Canyon since Thursday morning when a gushing hole formed in the earth-fill face.

"WE'RE LOWERING it as fast as possible and the way it looks now we've saved the dam," said Dave Mathias, assistant state engineer.

Mathias said the 400 residents of Capulin evacuated early Thursday would not be allowed to return to their homes until "we make a positive check on the situation."

He said, however, that area residents below Capulin began moving back to their homes Thursday night.

ENGINEERS KEPT watch on the dam with spotlights through the night on a small hillside above the structure and reported the hole did not become any larger.

But water behind the 18,000 acre foot reservoir continued to spurt from the break at a rate of seven cubic feet a second. The water was running clear this morning, indicating that further washing had stopped.

Resident Escape From Death Called Miracle

WORCESTER, Mass. — A jet training plane exploded over a residential area Thursday, killing both crewmen and spewing flaming fuel and hot metal fragments for a block.

Fire officials said it was "a miracle" that no one in the area was killed or injured. Many persons were shaken, however.

Six homes were set ablaze by the hot fuel. One, in front of which the plane crashed, was destroyed by flames.

Killed were the pilot, 1st Lt. Lawrence C. Guild, 25, of Quincy, and Capt. John F. Murphy Jr., 32, of Worcester.

The $3,242,333.000 bill already has been cut 622 million dollars in committee before it reached the House floor.

PHOTOGRAPHER STOPS ACTION AT GAME COLT

Desert Sun reporter-photographer Fred Weigel is today nursing an aching stomach and a growing conviction that baseball and photography don't mix.

Weigel was shooting pictures at a practice session before last night's game between Moon and Moon and Desert Hot Springs at the Polo Grounds when he stopped a wild pitch the hard way—with his stomach.

The force of the pitch knocked the wind out of him and he settled to the ground in a "slow-motion" collapse. But, like a good photographer, Weigel managed to ease his camera to the ground before he blacked out.

Miss Utah Replaces Her In Contest

Confesses Today After Air Force Husband Found

LONG BEACH, Calif. — Miss United States, Leona Gage of Maryland, admitted today that she is married and the mother of two sons. She was disqualified in the Miss Universe contest, and Miss Utah was named Miss United States.

"I knew the Miss Universe rules forbade a married girl from entering the contest, but I thought I had a chance," she sobbed. "I took it and lost. Yes, I'm married and I have two children."

THE HYSTERICAL 21-year-old from Glen Burnie, Md., who previously denied rumors that she was married, was placed under a physician's care and given sedatives. A police officer was stationed at her hotel door.

Miss Gage was selected Miss United States Wednesday night. The second place runnerup, Miss Utah, is Charlotte Sheffield, 20, Salt Lake City. Miss Gage survived Thursday night's judging which pared the field to 15 finalists from whom Miss Universe will be chosen tonight.

OSCAR MEINHARDT, pageant director, said Miss Gage, who is really Leona Ennis, wife of Air Force Sgt. G. N. Ennis, would remain in seclusion as long as she wished.

"After all, she's a young kid," he said. "Often a girl is urged and pushed into these things. It seems like a small lie at the beginning. We think she's a pretty wonderful girl and will protect her seclusion as long as she wishes."

CONTEST OFFICIALS met today to determine just how to solve the muddle of replacing Miss United States. Miss Utah was second in domestic judging but was not among the 15 who were made up of 14 non-domestic entrants and Miss United States. However Miss Alaska, who's really from Louisiana but is considered a "foreign" entrant by pageant officials, was among the 15 finalists. She is Martha Lehmann, 18, Fairbanks, and previously of Louisiana.

The rumors about Miss Gage's being married originated in Baltimore. Sgt. Ennis later admitted he and the winner were married in Vernon, Tex., Feb. 3, 1954. Their sons are 1 and 3 years old. Miss Gage denied the rumors at first and broke into tears when confronted with them.

Hoegh Takes Over CD Duties

WASHINGTON — Former Iowa Gov. Leo A. Hoegh was sworn in today as the new chief of the Federal Civil Defense Administration.

Hoegh succeeds Val Peterson, ambassador to Denmark.

The youth was rushed to Desert Hospital, where examinations are being conducted to determine the extent of his injuries. The driver told officers that the boy ran in front of her car, which was traveling about 15 miles per hour.

65-Year-Old Mother of Liberace Beaten

SHERMAN OAKS, Calif. (AP)—The 65-year-old mother of pianist Liberace Thursday night was beaten by two hooded men who accosted her in her garage. She suffered possible rib fractures and bruises, police said today.

Mrs. Frances Liberace told police one of the men kicked her as she tried to flee from them, and before she fainted she heard one of them say, "Kick her again so we'll have something to laugh about later."

SHE WAS TREATED by a private physician who said she suffered bruises and contusions of her back, possible fractured ribs and shock. She was placed under sedatives.

Officers said there was no evidence of burglary or robbery. Officers D. L. Rickards and C. Neuman reported the victim told them she was working in the kitchen and had to go to the garage where the incinerator is located to empty some trash.

WHILE IN THE garage, she heard a noise, turned and saw two men wearing black hoods over their heads and dark stockings over their shoes.

She said the men approached her without speaking and she started to run toward the kitchen, losing both shoes as she fled. One of the men kicked or hit her in the back and she fell, hearing the comment, "Kick her again" as she lost consciousness.

Theater Owner Stops Selling All Cigarettes

NEW YORK (AP)—There's a new sign over the candy counter in a Brooklyn movie house:

"Live Longer — Reach for a Sweet—Instead of a Smoke. Effective August 1, Sale of All Cigarettes, Plain or Filter Tip, Shall Be Discontinued At The Avenue U Theatre."

The theater's owner, manager, Albert L. Greene, said, "I guess you could call it a one-man crusade. I hope I didn't bite off more than I can chew."

GREENE SAID he started after the U.S. Public Health Service issued its report on the relation between smoking and lung cancer last week. He stopped smoking himself. He asked his employees to give it up.

"My assistant stopped, the matron stopped, the operators stopped, the cashiers and the doormen — they all stopped," Greene said.

THERE'S STILL a smoking section in the Avenue U Theatre. "But I don't want to be a party to selling them," Green said. "Maybe if some of the customers can't buy them here they'll give it up and maybe they'll be grateful."

Like the picture Greene's showing this week, it's a "Friendly Persuasion."

Leopold, Touhy Scheduled for Parole, Report

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Illinois Pardon and Parole Board members will recommend freedom for thrill killer Nathan Leopold, it was reported today.

Reports also circulated that Stateville Penitentiary's gates will swing open for another highly controversial inmate, prohibition era gangster Roger The Terrible Touhy.

The five-man board met in a closed session Thursday, after which a spokesman said the Leopold case and an appeal for freedom by Touhy had been "disposed of."

ALTHOUGH THE board's recommendations cannot be made public according to state law, speculation quickly spread through Springfield that Leopold and Touhy soon would be freed.

The Chicago Sun-Times, in a copyrighted story by John Dreiske, said Gov. William G. Stratton already has decided to reduce Leopold's term to 64 years, which means the 52-year-old slayer of Little Bobby Franks would be eligible for immediate parole.

THE STORY SAID Stratton also will vacate a 199-year term imposed on Touhy for jail break, paying for the way for his release.

The Chicago Tribune quoted board members as saying they will recommend "some leniency" for Leopold and Touhy.

Stratton, who returned here by plane Thursday night from Washington, said he had not yet made up his mind in the cases of the two prisoners. However, he added he expected to announce his decision in about 10 days or two weeks.

"I don't know a thing about it until I get their report" from the board, Stratton continued.

"In deference to the man himself (Leopold) I think I should see the board's report and the records in the case before I make up my mind," the governor said.

SHANKS HIMSELF was 10 years married, with two small children, when he decided in 1931 that teaching was not for him. He moved to a Manhattan law firm but again was disappointed. Finally, in 1932, he moved across the Hudson River to Newark and found at Prudential what he sought. By 1946 he was president of the company.

Now 58, the soft-spoken president said, "Many men leave school and pick-up, what seems a 'glamorous' field. Maybe advertising. Then they find out they're not suited for it."

"Insurance, I imagine, doesn't strike too many young people as glamorous. But for many of us it was the right field. And for a few — even in this building, I suppose — it wasn't. They'd be wise to switch."

HOW ABOUT THE man who starts in the right field and wants to advance?

"I think if I had one thing to tell a man like that," Shanks said, "it would be to always take the disagreeable jobs . . . it's not that the man who avoids disagreeable work will necessarily get fired. He probably won't. But he won't advance either."

"But when an opening comes, when you need a branch manager, you look to the man you've come to depend on, the man you couldn't help but notice," Shanks said.

Shanks believes career opportunities are better today than ever.

"But if you turn the wrong way in the beginning, don't feel you have to stay that way."

Not Satisfied With Your Job? Quit, if 30 or 50

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—So you're 30 years old and don't like your job. "Quit."

This is the advice of Carroll M. Shanks, who gave up a career as a law professor at the age of 32. Today he is the $250,000-a-year president of the Prudential Insurance Co.

"You've got to like what you are doing," Shanks said in an interview at his office here. "And if you don't—you're never too old to change—provided, that is, you aren't just hopping around."

New Indictment Against Bonelli Expected Soon

RIVERSIDE (AP)—A new indictment against one-time liquor czar William G. Bonelli is expected within 10 days, according to assistant district attorney W. B. Gustavson.

Bonelli, a member of the State Board of Equalization, was indicted by the San Diego County Grand Jury in 1954 on charges he illegally solicited campaign contributions from liquor licensees.

He fled to Mexico as California authorities wanted to extradite him from Arizona. Under present extradition treaties with Mexico, he cannot be returned on such a charge.

Observers, however, have indicated that recent testimony by a convicted former associate of Bonelli might substantiate charges for a new indictment.

Clerk Held for Double Murder

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—A 47-year-old liquor store clerk today was held on charges of murdering his estranged wife and 15-year-old stepdaughter in the office of attorney Murray M. Chotiner, 1952 campaign manager for Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Police said Leo Aaron Lewis rushed into Chotiner's office Thursday and fired a barrage of shots from a .38 Smith & Wesson pistol at his wife, Blanche, and the stepdaughter, Minda Birnbaum. Chotiner had left his office for home 15 minutes before the shooting.

Mrs. Lewis died instantly and the girl died an hour later while undergoing surgery at an emergency hospital.

Officers said Mrs. Lewis had consulted with Chotiner earlier about divorce action she was bringing against her husband. Lewis had been free on bail and had been ordered to appear in court Monday on charges of immoral acts against his stepdaughter, the second victim of the shooting.

The use of radioactive isotopes saved 400 million dollars in manufacturing costs last year, the Illinois Institute of Technology estimates.

THE FIVE FINALISTS in the Farmers Daughter Contest are Theresa Costello, Arlington; Kay Lynn Mathews, Hemet; Nelda Arzate, Perris; Diana Percival, Hemet; and Tina Michels, Hemet. They will take part in daily contests at the Farmers Fair which will be held Aug. 21 through 25 in Hemet.

Placebo Is Substitute for Happy Pill, Psychiatrist Says

By DELOS SMITH
United Press Science Editor
NEW YORK (AP)—A psychiatrist of experimental bent has found that a majority of his over-anxious or over-tense patients respond quite as well to a placebo as to "happy pills."

A placebo is anything which is known positively to have no physical effect whatever when taken into the human body. If it does produce an effect, that effect is produced by the power of suggestion.

To compare the effect of any chemical compound believed to be active within the human body with the effect of a placebo "given-for-real" is, therefore, to subject it to a tough test.

DR. ROBERT R. SCHOPACH, psychiatrist at the Henry Ford Hospital, Detroit, used the test in obsessional, anxious, and tense neurotic patients—a placebo opposed to the "happy pill," meprobamate which is sold under the trade names "Miltown" and "Equinol."

In a majority of the patients, what effect one produced, the other produced. No one should understand this is to mean that the pill's only power is that of suggestion, since there is no question of it being chemically active inside the human body.

HOWEVER, THE doctor's point was that suggestion plays a part in how people respond to anything.

Red Skelton Gives Special Show for Son

ROME (AP)—Comedian Red Skelton celebrated his 44th birthday Thursday night, making his famous rubbery faces for a laughing son who may not see his next birthday.

He leered. He groaned. He frowned. He snickered—and sneered.

His son, Richard, 9, rocked up and down in his chair with laughter and joy as he watched the show that millions of TV fans eye each week, this time a one-man show for a one-boy audience.

It was a big night for Red in his family's eyes. They secretly ordered him a chocolate birthday cake with 44 candles at Alfredo's Restaurant.

They tipped the band to sing "Happy Birthday" when the big red-headed comic walked in.

But for Red it was still Richard's night, just as this whole round the world in 80 days trip is Richard's trip.

Richard, doctors say, will die of incurable leukemia. Thus far, he has outlived their predictions.

Also present was their other daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Weaver and their three sons, Robert, Jr., Jackie and James, from Pomona.

Seasoning Meats

When broiling steaks or chops, season them on each side after broiling. If seasoned before broiling, the salt will tend to retard the broiling process. Roasts may be seasoned before or after cooking since seasonings penetrate the meat less than one quarter inch.

Cooking in Liquid

To procure the best results when cooking meat in liquid, keep these pointers in mind. Corned beef, cured pork and tongue are not browned before being cooked in liquid. Meats cooked in liquid should be simmered, never boiled. Boiling will cause the meat to become stringy and difficult to carve.

New Clothes Prove Simple In Silhouette, Fancy in Fabric

By GAY PAULEY

United Press Staff Correspondent NEW YORK — The new clothes, although simple in silhouette, come in some fancy-sounding fabrics.

This fall, if a girl is to shop wisely, she will have to know such materials as silk broadcloth, lame chiffon, crepe marocain, hampered satin, tissue tweed and chintilly wool lace.

Designers employ such a variety of fabrics the International Silk Association put out a glossary of terms in collections shown this week by the couture group of the New York Dress Institute.

THE BROADCLOTH, for instance, is "a fine smooth silk cloth frequently used for shirts." Only this year, it'll be in dresses also. Lame chiffon is a light weight silk cloth with gold or silver surface of metallic threads. Crepe marocain is just a heavy silk crepe; hampered satin, a fabric with mottled surface—like hampered brass or copper. Tissue tweed is one way to describe the non-bulky lightweight tweeds for fall. And chintilly wool lace is like any other chintilly lace in pattern, but made from wool yarn.

OTHER JAW-BREAKING terms for the new season: Roshanara crepe, a heavy silk crepe with a wool backing; gros de londres, a heavy formal dress fabric with a pronounced rib in the weave; charmeuse, a very thin silk with satin weave and the high polish of satin and panne velvet, a velvet which has been pressed so that the pile lies flat.

A girl also had better get used to the term plastron front, which is a trimming for the front of a dress, narrowed from shoulders to waistline. The marin silhouette also is with us—marin is French for sailor, and describes the mid-

Every American 'Queen' Wants A Washing Machine

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Guest writer Jack Bailey tells about his NBC-TV show, "Queen For a Day.")

HOLLYWOOD — The truth about the American housewife is that, in spite of automation, electronics and the atomic age, the thing she wants most is still a washing machine. How do I know?

Because five days a week, 52 weeks a year, 800 women attend our show in Hollywood and on the back of their admission card they name what they want most if the audience elects them "Queen For a Day." Week after week, for 11 years now, the washing machine has been number one on their wish parade.

WE GET ALL KINDS of wishes; some light, some serious, like the one from the young wife who was both deaf and mute and expecting a child. She wanted an electronic warning apparatus, one that would flash lights in every room in the house when it picked up the sound of her baby crying.

Then there was the one from a woman who wanted us to help her get rid of some worms. She was in the worm-raising business, it seemed, and when the bottom dropped out of the market she thought we'd be able to help her get rid of the wriggler. She didn't win, though, and we were spared the task.

GENERALLY, WOMEN wish for something that will improve daily living or lift the veil of tragedy that has been suddenly thrown over their homes. They want hearing aids, glasses, orthopedic shoes or special educations for their youngsters, necessary things that are beyond the financial means of many families.

Not infrequently, women appear with totally unselfish wishes; they want something for someone else. One woman who returned from missionary work in Korea wished for money to be sent to a Korean orphanage. Another for a bicycle for her paper boy.

BUT THE WASHING machine is number one and anyone trying to raise three or four youngsters can understand why. Because many women still don't have any kind of washing machine and many others need later models, we give every "queen" a new automatic in the array of household gifts that all our winners receive.

Mink, diamonds, a chateau on the Riviera, a powder blue convertible; all of them may be a girl's best friend, but to the average American housewife, the washing machine is the real symbol of her emancipation from drudgery and hard work.

When barbecuing steaks and chops, trim off the excess fat before cooking so that the drippings won't cause flames to flare.

Rainbow Hues Are Dominant In New Housewares Shown

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. — There's no such thing anymore as the pot calling the kettle black.

The new pots and pans come in bold color combinations — yellow, turquoise and white, for example. They're still just as utilitarian as their duller predecessors, but like housewares in general bring a rainbow of colors into the house.

Just about every hue was on view at the 27th annual show of the National Housewares Manufacturers Association here. The show was held for 20,000 buyers, manufacturers and other industry representatives.

Three color combinations also showed in picnic and clothes hampers, in kitchen knives, spoons, forks, openers, beaters and bathroom accessories.

THE BUYERS also saw simulated smoke adding a realistic touch to electric fireplace logs; a coffee grinding and blending attachment that provides 16 settings for finer grinds; a split sponge designed to clean both sides of a glass pane at the same time; a scalloped suburban mailbox; and a "paste wax in liquid form."

A cake pan bakes angel food in an oblong rather than round shape, so that only one cut side is exposed to the air. There's no longer a need to hug the mixing bowl while stirring a cake; a new device holds any size dish snugly at the desired angle.

An outdoor clothes dryer can be turned into a garden or patio umbrella with the addition of a bright-colored cover.

CIGARETTE SMOKERS who prefer brands other than those offered by a hostess now can serve themselves from a new table box which holds six packs in regular and king sizes.

Some other products offered at the annual exhibit:

A water pail which directs the splashes back into the bucket; a "butter bather" which measures by tablespoons;

A hexagonal pie pan which eliminates the guess work in slicing a pie;

A baby's bassinet which rocks like a cradle, but can be detached from the rockers for easy transporting;

An automobile clothes hanger which attaches to the window glass;

Electric Range Popular Due To Flexibility

An electric range is proving very popular, due to its flexibility.

Modern versions come in pleasant colors that blend with the rest of the kitchen decor. In the "built-in" ranges, counter-top surface units are complemented by built-in ovens, placed at convenient height to avoid stooping. In a large household, you can have two oven units if you wish, instead of just one—or two surface unit sections that will take care of as many as eight utensils at one time.

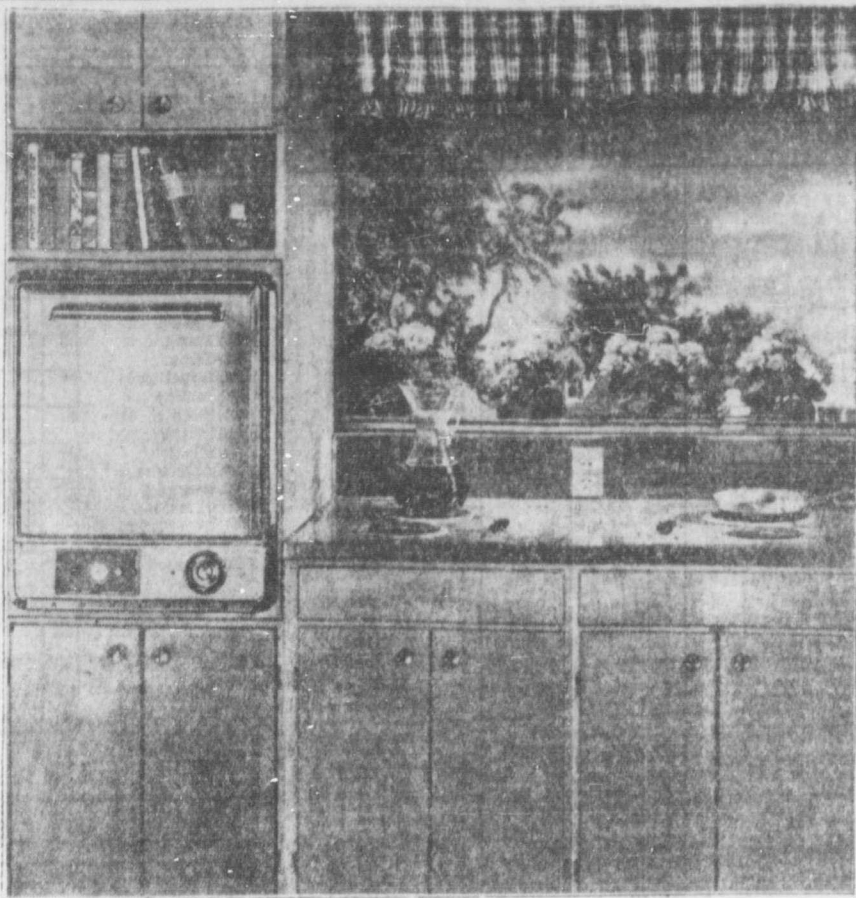

IN THE conventional ranges, there are models where—all in one oven—you can do two things at once—that is, bake and broil, roast and broil, or bake and roast. Each section has its own controls. In other words, you can roast a turkey and bake a cake at the same time, in the same oven—and have each come out perfectly.

Another model has an adjustable elevator oven rack that moves up and down at the flick of a lever. It's easy to adjust the height for a cake or a steak without burning your fingers.

SOME MODELS ARE small, to save space—will fit into 30 inches yet have a good big oven that will bake several dozen rolls at once.

Most electric range models have automatic controls that permit "cooking without looking"—or without the homemaker even being at home. She can feel perfectly safe about being away, because heat and "on" and "off" controls are electric. There are deepwell cookers for stews and other foods which require long, slow cooking. This feature has many other uses—including sterilizing the baby's bottles.

Garden Can Be Many Splendored Thing, Especially During Summer in California

A garden can be a many splendored thing most of the year in California but this is particularly true in the summer. Since gardens take their personality and beauty from color, the summer perennial is especially valued for there is literally no limit to the sizes, shapes, hues and shades that can be effected by the choice of summer perennials which flourish here.

Whether the gardener plans a cheerful many colored display or a special one-color effect, there are hardy perennials to fit his scheme. Whatever his plans, however, he should certainly visit his local nurseryman often to solicit aid in making sure that his selections receive the proper care to achieve the effect he desires.

FOR A GARDEN bursting with color the Geranium (Pelargonium) cannot be overlooked. Blooming in pinks, salmons, scarlets, vermillions, purples, bronze reds, whites and whites with peppermint candy variegations, a Geranium garden will maintain its colorful bloom for weeks.

Actually requiring little care, the Geranium will thrive if pinched and pruned to maintain shape and to remove branches that have become worn and unattractive. Be sure to establish good drainage in heavy soils, water newly planted Geraniums well until they have become established and then only enough to keep the ground moist because too much water may keep the plant from blooming freely.

FOR BLENDING shades of one-color perennials for special effects, the California Association of Nurserymen suggests the following summer blooming plants. A cool-looking blue and white garden is achieved by blending the purple of Lavender (lavandula officinalis) with the light blue of delphiniums, blue peonies and clumps of white Shasta Daisies (Chrysanthemum maximum). This arrangement will thrive in areas that have sun with partial shade in the mornings or afternoons.

There are, of course, a variety of daisies from which you may choose. One species that will give dependable garden and cut flowers are the Transvaal or Gerbera hybrids which have blooms in yellow, cream, pink, rose, orange and red flowers. The Gerbera hybrids are extremely long lasting in all of their bright colors and have single or double blooms. They are a low, compact plant, ideal for foreground planting.

FOR A RICH-LOOKING red-pink effect, deep red carnations (dianthus caryophyllus) can be combined with scarlet Coral Bells (heuchera), a pink type of perennial phlox, and Sweet William (dianthus barbatus) in a rose shade. For contrast, add white verbena hortensis. This garden will grow in full sun.

If you prefer bright yellow, use yellow carnations with Golden Marguerites (anthem. tinctoria). Here, again, use the Transvaal Daisy (gerbera jamesonii) in its yellow blooming shade. White verbena hortensis can also be included in this garden arrangement which requires full sun.

SINCE SUMMER perennials are found in all shades of red, blue and yellow, they can be effectively combined to achieve the cheery effect desired by all gardeners. Some perennials, such as carnation, phlox and columbine have varieties in all three shades.

In choosing plants for a perennial border, consider relative heights and spreading tendencies of each perennial. Borders should contain complementary shapes of leaves and flowers. For example, the tall spires of delphinium contrast well with the round-flowered peony.

'Do-It' Fan Is Heavy User Of Plywood

If you think Americans aren't do-it-yourself minded, take a look at these figures.

Do-it-yourself home projects consumed more than 500 million square feet of fir plywood in the United States last year. This was 10 per cent of all American fir plywood produced during the year.

Giant Flowered Moscheutos Offers Beauty

Good news to California Gardeners is the development of the giant flowered Hibiscus, moscheutos, for this new strain has made it possible for gardeners throughout the state to enjoy the brilliant beauty of the giant blooms. The moscheutos, originally a native of the Northeastern states is unique, because it combines the beauty of the Hibiscus with an ability to survive in cold regions.

Because the plant loses its above-ground growth each year, frost does not harm it, indeed, it is known to survive in areas where the temperatures fall as low as 20 degrees below zero.

THIS HIBISCUS, which is now available in containers at local nurseries is a fast growing plant which blooms from early August through September. The lovely tropical blooms often measure eight inches and more in diameter, in colors of white, light pink, deep red-pink, dark red, white with pink stripes and white with red eyes (centers).

The shrub is fast growing and often reaches a height of eight feet although the average height is four to five feet. It becomes very bushy and develops many sprouts as it matures. It can be grown successfully in every area of California, with exception of the high mountainous regions.

THE HIBISCUS moscheutos should be grown in the sun and where it will receive partial shade during some parts of the day. It is a heavy feeder and requires generous amounts of water for it has a large bushy root system. The plant thrives in rich well-drained, well fertilized light loam.

Because of its beauty and growth habits, the Hibiscus moscheutos would make an excellent container grown shrub for garden or patio.

Paint Works Wonders for Many Homes

The next best thing to building a new home is decorating an old one. New paint can make old rooms look bigger, cheer up dark corners, lend fresh life to furniture, draperies and rugs.

Today's small homes can be stretched out a size or two by careful color selection. Paint a very small room a very light color. Use pale neutrals or pastel shades. Light blue, for example, makes a room look much larger. And when you're matching drapery, rugs or furniture, pick lighter colors that match to make walls march right off into space.

Interior decorators and psychologists have pooled their knowledge and come up with color suggestions that can bring restfulness to bedrooms, sparkling freshness to kitchens and new beauty to dreary rooms.

There are several ways to start thinking about color. You may start with a basic drapery or rug color, and select complementary colors. Or you may have a north or south exposure that needs cheering up or toning down.

In the living room particularly, many homeowners select colors that harmonize with the color of their rugs. If your rug is gray, for instance, ideal color combinations are dark brown, yellow-green or shell pink walls.

If your rug is green, paint walls lemon yellow, light gray or lighter pastel green. For tan rugs, platinum blue, peach or light tan are matching colors.

THE LADY'S PROBLEM of where to put her gardening equipment has been solved since hubby built this functional potting bench. It has ample storage space for all the paraphernalia that the green-thumb set requires.

Potting Bench Provides Room For Equipment

Besides good weather, the thing that home gardeners want most is a compact storage space for all their tools, pots, sacks and boxes.

This functional garden potting bench answers that need, and it's no too difficult for the average gardener to build on a rainy weekend. Exterior type fir plywood with its 100 per cent waterproof glue-line is used for construction of the potting bench. Fir plywood comes in large, strong panels and requires a minimum of cutting and nailing so that even the part-time do-it-yourselfer can construct the bench in a short time.

The unit features ample storage space for all kinds of equipment from grass seed to water sprinklers. Large bins on casters keep peat moss and fertilizer handy.

The bench may be built as part of a carport, garage, or added to a garden house. The working surface of the unit is a convenient 36" high, and 5' long. There are no difficult cuts or joints specified in the detailed do-it-yourself plan for the potting bench.

An optional top for the working surface would be high density overlaid fir plywood. High density has a smooth, flint-hard surface which is highly durable yet easy to clean.

This handsome unit pays a triple dividend of convenience, longer life for garden equipment, and reduced waste. A complete do-it-yourself plan may be obtained free of charge from the Douglas Fir Plywood Association, Tacoma 2, Washington.

Gardener's Checklist

1. After watering your lawn, check the depth of water penetration with a small stick or iron rod. Soak deeply and less frequently.

2. To prevent the neighbors' ears from invading your garden, spread Dieldrin granules on a two foot wide strip around the edge of your property.

3. If your lawn suffers from lawn moth damage, you can speed recovery by spraying with liquid fertilizer.

4. To keep your lawn from encroachment on flower beds, etc., border your lawn with the new invisible aluminum lawn edging.

Glass Can Add Beauty, Utility To Interiors

The simple beauty of pure, sparkling plate glass, whether clear or mirrored, can greatly enhance any interior scheme: period, modern, or a combination of both.

Mirrors may be used to enlarge the appearance of a room as well as to serve as a grooming medium or they may be placed so as to reflect light into a dull and dreary space such as a stairwell.

Heavy plate or tempered glass shelves offer limitless uses for beautifying the interior while serving a useful purpose. They may be used with glass block separators to form free standing display units; with common plain or painted brick to form knick-knack shelves or used with brackets to perform numerous useful decorative services from book cases to room dividers.

TODAY'S SPORTS PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Sam Snead and 15 guys who, as far as the gallery is concerned, might as well be named "Joe" play the fourth round of the PGA golf championship today with every official finger in the house crossed in his favor.

They're praying that old Sambo, at 45 still the only stakes horse in the race, doesn't get bounced. Which, if you're interested, is a sad commentary on the state of "name" production in pro golf these days.

Because the fact is that without Sam the tournament won't draw flies?

THIS MAY NOT sound fair to such as Mike Souchak, Doug Ford, Tommy Bolt, Walt Burkemo and others of that calibre who are among the survivors. But while they were merrily walloping their way into the fourth round at Miami Valley Golf Club Thursday they were playing in virtual privacy.

It was Slamm'n Sam who had most of the gallery of 6,000 trailing at his heels like the tail of a comet.

THE FACT IS that professional golf has been coasting idly for years on the name lure of its established stars. It had 'em, too, for a while. But all of a sudden they have looked up and realized that the "names" have been fading away one by one and the replacements haven't been readied.

Even back in the blooming days of the pro game you had such as Walter Hagen, Gene Sarazen, Paul Runyan, Tommy Armour and Leo Diegel to fill the house. Then came the era of Byron Nelson, Ben Hogan, Lawson Little, Lloyd Mangrum, Jimmy Demaret and, that wonderful one-hoss shay, Slamm'n Sam.

The PGA broke its own blue suede shoes by installing a rule some years back that youngsters had to be a pro five years before they could play in this tournament.

Dee Fondy Contributes Success to 'Old Family Ties'

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Dee Fondy, who batted his way to the ranks of the National League leaders shortly after he put on a Pittsburgh Pirate uniform, ascribed his rise today to "old school ties."

"Manager Bobby Bragan has been the most helpful manager

I ever played under," Fondy said as he awaited his turn at the Forbes Field batting cage. "I was with the Brooklyn organization for five years and I was assigned to the Fort Worth farm club in 1948 when Bragan got his first chance to manage. I learned a lot of baseball during the three seasons played with him in the Texas League.

"SAM NARRON and Clyde Sukeforth were coaches with the Dodgers. Now both are with the Pirates and it's like coming home to be with them. The old school ties have helped me.

Fondy led the league batters for a spell and has been in the charmed circle for about six weeks. He came to the Pirates May 2 from the Chicago Cubs along with Gene Baker in a straight player trade for Dale Long and Lee Walls.

FONDY WAS with the Pirates only a few weeks when his batting average surged and joined the fast company of Stan Musial, Hank Aaron and Willie Mays. "Naturally, I was disappointed to be left off the All-Star squad," he said. "But I realized the competition for first base — Musial and Gil Hodges — was tough to beat."

Scores 5-0 Win Over Mhoon Team

Mexican Colony
Blanks Telephone
In Short Game

DESERT SOFTBALL LEAGUE	W	L
Desert Hot Springs	14	2
Mexican Colony	12	4
Mhoon-Mhoon	11	6
M&M-Lehrfeld	6	11
Laury's	5	11
Telephone Co.	2	16

Scores Thursday
Mexican Colony 11, Telephone Co. 0; Desert Hot Springs 5, Mhoon-Mhoon 9.

Brilliant pitching by Neal Green and three crucial hits by Larry Parnell gave the league leading Desert Hot Springs Fireballs a 5 to 0 shutout victory over Mhoon & Mhoon at the Polo Grounds last night and virtually insured the winners the Desert Softball League championship.

In the first game of the double-header the second place Mexican Colony polished off the Telephone Co. in only three innings 11 to 0. League rules state that if any team gets 11 runs ahead the game is called.

THE THRILLS of the night came in the second game. Desert Hot Springs and Mhoon & Mhoon battled tooth and nail in a very tight contest until the Fireballs broke it up with three runs in the top of the seventh inning.

Up to then the outcome of the game was doubtful. Desert Hot Springs had picked up two runs on two hits by Parnell, who had his best night of the year.

But Mhoon & Mhoon had threatened twice. The threats came in the second and fourth innings with Bill Enz doubling twice, but he died on base each time when Green got the side out.

IT WAS ONE of Green's best nights. He scattered five hits while striking out 10 and walking none.

In the first game the Mexican Colony had no trouble and was never threatened. Although they got only six hits they capitalized on them all with snappy base running.

Frank Prieto held the Telephone Co. hitless and only faced six batters. The losers only got up twice in the short contest.

The scores:

Mexican Colony	R	H	E
Telephone Co.	0	0	1
Frank Prieto, winner; Bernie Beckley, loser.

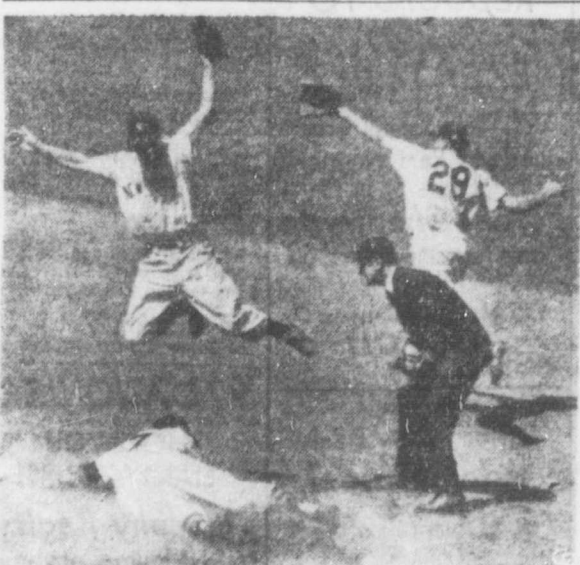

Desert Hot Springs	R	H	E
Mhoon-Mhoon	5	9	1
Neal Green, winner; Paul Neilson, loser.

Junior Police Meets Boys Club

The league leading Junior Police will meet the Boys Club in the first game of Little League action tonight at 7 p.m. at the Polo Grounds.

In the second game, the Cameron Stars will meet the Hathaway-Buick Braves.

HERE'S AN ARCHITECT'S drawing of how the proposed $8,370,000 stadium to house the New York Giants would look—if they move to San Francisco. The structure, seating 90,000 with parking space for 20,000 autos would be built in Hayward, a San Francisco suburb. The stadium would be of cantilever construction, eliminating posts and giving all spectators an unobstructed view. At extreme center-left is a 200-room motel for use of visiting clubs. (International).

Snead Moves Into Co-Favorite Spot in PGA

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Once again its old Slamm'n Sammy Snead against the field in the PGA golf championship.

While such favorites as Doug Ford, Walter Burkemo, Tommy Bolt, Dick Mayer and Mike Souchak still were in the running as the 16 survivors teed off today for the first of two more rounds of 18-hole sudden-death matches, it was the 45-year-old links artist from West Virginia that everyone was watching.

PAYING ANYTHING but like his age, he found the hilly 6,773-yard Miami Valley golf course to his liking as he paced the field into the round of 16 with some of the best golf of his career. He was 10 under par or the 47 holes it took him to beat his first three opponents.

He faced Dow Finsterwald of Athens, Ohio, in this morning's fourth round and now ranked as a co-favorite with Ford.

IN THE OTHER fourth-round pairings it was Bolt, also playing golf as hot as the sun which baked the course the past two days, against Claude Harmon, the former Masters champion from Mamaroneck, N.Y.; Burkemo against Henry Ransom of St. Andrews, Ill.; Ford against Jay Herbert of Sanford, Fla., and Mayer, the U.S. Open champion, against Ted Kroll of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Ballarin On TV

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Germinal Ballarin, the rugged French middleweight with the black handlebar mustache, gets his first still American test tonight in a 10-rounder with fifth-ranking Rory Calhoun at the War Memorial Auditorium.

Dorando Wins

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Joey Dorando, 146, Hollywood, came up with a savage attack Thursday night to score a fifth-round knockout over Rudy Mendoza, 146, Los Angeles, in a scheduled 10-rounder at Olympic Auditorium.

Pony Team Moves Into Second Place

Defeats Colton Team With Two Late Rallies

The Palm Springs Elks Pony League team came from behind twice in extra innings last night in Colton to beat the Colton Pony Leaguers 7 to 6 and take over second place in league standings. John Warren went all the way for Palm Springs and was the winning pitcher.

An extra inning homer by Dave Tomlinson tied the game and then two well executed squeeze plays won it for the local team.

Saturday night at the Polo Grounds the Palm Springs Colts play the Colton Bankers at 7:45 p.m. in an important contest. Leroy Segundo will pitch for Palm Springs.

SAFETY COUNCIL MEMBERSHIP soared to the 700 mark this week. Latest Palm Springs firm to sign up all its employees is Coachella Valley Savings and Loan Association. Traffic Sgt. Bob Young congratulates Mrs. Robert Flavin, association employee, and president Bill Smith. (Anderson Photo).

Safety Council Now Has 700 Active Members

Following a path towards safe, accident-free driving, almost 700 Village motorists have joined the Palm Springs Safety Council, Chairman Don Miller reported today.

Miller said that four local business firms, each employing more than 10 persons, and two organizations have certificates of 100 per cent membership.

URGING ALL resort motorists to climb aboard the safety bandwagon, Miller pointed out that the council has been acclaimed as a prime cause for reduction of Palm Springs auto accidents since its organization last Jan. 1.

Miller said that Police Chief August Kettmann has commended council activities, citing the group as a factor in a Village safety record that shows a reduction in local traffic crashes for every month, except April, since the first of the year.

BUSINESS FIRMS and organizations now counting 100 per cent employee and membership participation in the Safety Council are Hammer Electric, Palm Springs Community Television, Coachella Valley Savings and Loan, Santos Catering Service, the Palm Springs Police Department and the Optimist Club.

Prospective members may join this roadway safety crusade by sending a post card to the Palm Springs Safety Council, Post Office Box 2693, or by contacting Miller or any other council official.

Fishing Note

GREENFIELD, N. H. — (UP) — Seated in wheelchairs or standing with the aid of crutches, 40 crippled youngsters from the Crocheted Mountain Rehabilitation Center caught 270 speckled trout in two hours.

THOUSAND PALMS

By IZETTA HUNT

Robert Graham left here this week for his home in Portland, Ore., where Mrs. Graham has been waiting for him. They will be away for several months.

Misses Valletta Hunt and Anita Ross took the bus to spend the weekend in Riverside with Anita's grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ross and the boys, and Freddie Bunker motored to Riverside on Sunday to bring the girls home. Miss Bonnie Adams of Norco returned with Valletta Hunt to spend a week in the desert.

Mrs. Herbert Adams and children returned Tuesday morning from a train trip to Jonesboro, Ark., where Mrs. Adams' parents and other relatives reside.

Recent guests at the Cy Ostad home in Palm Springs were Mr. and Mrs. Horace Wiley and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Samelson of San Jacinto Dunes, were recent Los Angeles callers, going in to visit with their respective daughters, and for a short business trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester, Stephen and Phyllis, returned from a two weeks vacation trip through Iowa and Missouri, with relatives.
